Human Embryonic Stem Cell Research

American Life League received the following email reply on 11/1/23 from the Livestrong Foundation: “Thank you for contacting the Livestrong Foundation. Livestrong is non-clinical and do not have researchers or research projects. Livestrong is focused only on cancer survivorship.”

This PDF booklet from 2008 illustrates Livestrong’s staunch support for the use of human embryonic stem cell research while reviewing California’s and Texas’ adoption of Proposition 15 in 2008.

Abortion/In Vitro Fertilization

Livestrong published a press release in June 2022 on Dobbs v. Jackson and the negative impacts they see for cancer patient survivors if they do not have access to abortion.

The Livestrong Foundation continues to support and fight for those living with cancer today. Reproductive healthcare is an essential component of person-centered cancer care. We stand with all cancer patients, including those who are interested in preserving their fertility, trying to conceive, or currently pregnant, regardless of cancer stage, race, color, creed, gender, or sexual orientation.
