Stance on Human Embryonic Stem Cells

On 10/3/2023, Rick Labuda, executive director of Conquer Chiari, emailed ALL with the following response regarding human embryonic stem cell research:
"Thanks for your email. We do not have such a statement mostly because it is not really applicable to our research program. In our history, we've never had a project or even a proposal that would utilize stem cells of any type."
