(under Annual Report)

LBDA financially supports Lewy Body Dementia research (LBDA's Research Centers of Excellence) from organizations that either utilize or support the use of human embryonic stem cell research in looking for cures to the disease. Some of the organizations that do so are Mayo Clinic, Oregon Health and Science University, Emory University, and Columbia University (all sources are linked in purple). Many of LBDA's Scientific Advisory Council are scientists and researchers within these institutions.

ALL has reached out to LBDA several times, and they have yet to respond to our inquiries.
